

There are three collections to choose from depending on the couple's wedding needs

Collection 1: This is for very small weddings or a stand-alone reception. Usually for events with 30-50 people.

Collection 2: This is for an average sized wedding of about 60 people where the couple does not request photos of the wedding party getting ready or does not need the photographer at the reception for very long.

Collection 3: (most popular) This collection is for all day. I will capture the party getting ready before the ceremony, the wedding, reception, and formal photos.

What is a print credit? It is the allowance within the pricing of your collection to order prints. Any amount over the print credit is an additional cost to you. Once the couple receives their photos, they simply select the size and quantity of images they want printed and let me know. I will take care of ordering your printing.

Is a second shooter necessary? If your wedding has a large guest list, multiple locations, etc. then yes, a second photographer is recommended.

What is a personal online gallery? It is the online gallery shared with the couple and only the couple has access to the gallery. They choose what to share with friends and family.
